MORE ABOUT DEWEY.

A Quiet Sort of Man Who Is Honored and Trusted by His Men, (From the New York Commercial Advert Admiral George Dewey is the here of this war who appeals most strongly to the popular imagination. He won his place by a splendid victory, in which perplace by a spienaid victory, in which per-sonal darling went hand in hand with strategic skill, and he has kept it by the exhibition of other traits not always found in a successful righter. In the manageexhibition of other traits not always found in a successful fighter. In the management of the delicate questions arising from the victory he won he has shown the qualities of a diplomat and an administrator. People are beginning to say of Dewey that he never makes a mistake. It is a dangerous reputation to have, for will be a difficult one to maintain. It is doubtful whether even the victory in the property of the property of the same of the victory in the same of the victory in the same of the victory in the victory of the victory in the v is doubtful whether even the vacous, in Manila harbor created a more favorable impression at home than the incident in Subig Bay. The one filled his countrymen with the joy of triumph, but the other produced in them the satisfying conviction that their interests were safe in Dewey's keeping, no matter what completely subject that their interests were safe in Dewey's keeping, no matter what completely safety arise. There is no naralplications might arise. There is no paral-lel instance in American history of a great reputation so quickly made. Other military and naval commanders in other wars have come fapidly to the front, but with them there was some battle of minor importance or the gradually spreading publicity of a campaign. There has never they came. There are men in the navy of proved gallantry, who have gained wide reputation from an effective phrase or catching speech. Dewey is not one of these. It would be quite foreign to his mature to filing out "Remember the Maine!" as a signal from his flagship, like Schley, or to threaten, like Evans, mature to filing out "Remember the Maine!" as a signal from his flagship, like Schiey, or to threaten, like Evans, that he would "make Spanish the prevail-fing language in hell." He was never the kind of an officer whose name lends itself readily to the embellishment of adjectives. Nobody ever thought of calling him "Fighting George." and he would have smiled on them with quitz; all good thumor if they had. There it making of the bluff sea dog about him.

Dewey, and the few which are told illusity of mind than any striking military trait. There is the recent incident, for example, of the gunner aboard the Olym-pla, who celebrated the victory of Manila Bay by getting gloriously drunk. He was court-martialed for drunkenness and was sentenced to fifteen days' imprisonment, with a diet of bread and water. When the findings of the court came before the admiral he indersed on it: "The verdict is approved; the sentence is remitted in view of the victory lately won by the fleet under my command."

There was a touch of human sympathy lie to me. I don't ask them not to drink, could appreciate. Those who have cruised a Har, and would show one no mercy.

It is related that on one of his cruises a petry officer went ashore at Gibraltar and came back the worse for liquor. He was brought before Dewey at the mast publicity of a campaign. There has never been another who in a single day sprang so dramatically from comparative obscarily to world-wide fame.

Yet there is nothing dramatic in Dewey's character. He has always been known among his fellows as a modest, unassuming competent officer, who went about his duties without demonstration and accepted responsibilities simply as they came. There are men in the navy of proved gallantry, who have gained or proved gallantry, who have gained wide recutation from an effective phrase.

TAKING IT IN TERRITORY

The Henviest of Modern War Indemnities That Which Prance Paid to Germany-Increased Cost of War-The Compensation for the Maine-Other Items of Expense.

The heaviest war indemnity of modern times, says the New York Sun, was, of course, that paid by France at the close of the war with Germany. The hostilities lasted over eight months, and the total cost of the war was estimated at $1,580,-000,000. Besides the cession of Alsace and Lorraine, France had to pay Germany five milliards of francs ($1,000,000,000) in installments, which were allowed to extend over three years. The original demand of Germany was six milliards, or $200,000,000 Metz, but it was to his extertions that the was due.

The cost of the Russo-Turkish war of 1877 has been estimated at $945,000,000. Between the declaration of war by Russia and the treaty of San Stefano nearly eleven months elapsed. By this treaty the Porte admitted itself indebted to Russia in the sum of 1,410,000,000 rubles (about $725,000,000) as indemnity for the losses and expenses of the war. The items in the account were as follows: $460,000,000 for account were as follows: $490,009,000 for war expenses, $25,500,000 for damage done to the south coast of Russia, her export commerce, industries and rallways; $5,509,000 for injuries caused by the invasion of the Caucasus, and $5,000,000 for injuries suffered by Russian subjects and es-tablishments in Turkey. In consideration of the financial embarrassments of the Ottoman Empire, the Czar consented to accept in substitution for about threefiths of the total sum the various terri-torial cossions sanctioned by the treaty of Berlin. This left a balance of $25,000,000 due to Russia by Turkey, and a part of it is still unpaid. The latest and most lenient war indem nity was that levied by victorious Turkey on Greece last year. The Sultan was obliged by the great powers of Europe to cut it down to $20,000,000, which was not a ourth part of what it actually cost him.

A few corporative figures, taken from A few corporative figures, taken from official records, will serve to put the great increase in the cost of war as now conducted, with all the modern improvements, in a clear light. Our war for independence lasted eight years, and its cost is officially recorded as $115,000,000, using round figures. There were about 310,000 troops engaged in that war-one-third more than have been called our terms. third more than have been called out in the present conflict with Spain. It follows that, accepting Mr. Dingley's estimate of $500,000,000 a year as the cost of the present war, it is going to cost three times as much to fight Spain for one year in 1888 as it cost to fight Great Britain for the eight verys from 175 to 135. The for the eight years from 1775 to 1783. The war of 1812, which lasted two years and eight months, cost the United States a little over $197.000,000, and to carry it on we put in the field $75.000 nearly three times as many as we now have under

The Mexican war, which lasted two years and three months, cost the American people $100,000,000 and 112,000 troops were engaged in it. If the number of the troops who carried our flag victoriously to the capital of Mexico had been doubled they would have about equaled the num-ber of the army now in the field against Spain, and the cost of their two years and three months of operations would have been about $200,000,000. From which it is a plain deduction that, with the same number of men under arms, a year of war in 1898 is about five times as expensive as was a year of war in 1846.

The cost of our great civil conflict has been put down at $5,189,929,869, but that stimate includes all expenses growing out of the war, as well as the actual coat of the military and naval operations. The direct outlay of the United States Gov-ernment in earrying on the war for four years was $3.40,00,000, and in the course of he struggle 2.839,122 Union troops were engaged. It is estimated that the num-ber of troops actually engaged on the Union side averaged 2,226,168 for three Hence it appears that the direct cost of the war, counting it on this three years' busis, was about $1,495,000,000 a year. But Mr. Dingley has told us that it will cost $100,000,000 to keep 200,000 men fighting Spain for one year, which is more than one-third as much as it cost the Government to keep 2,325,000 men fighting the Confederate States for the same length of time. It is easy to understand why modern warfare is so much more costly than the old-fashioned kind if we turn to a few of old-fashioned kind if we turn to a few of the leading items in the military and na-val expenditure of our time. The aver-age cost of a first-class battleship is $1,-090,000. The cost of the Maine, which was a battleship of the second class, was $2,-500,000. An armored cruiser of the Broak-lyn type costs $3,000,000. An armored ram like the Katahdin costs $1,000,000. A dou-ble-turred monitor costs about $1,500,000. e-turreted monitor costs about $1,500,000. A single-turreted monitor costs $500,000. A protected cruiser costs all the way from $1,000,000 to $2,700,000; the Charleston cost the former and the Co-lumbia the latter sum. An unprotected lumbia the latter sum. An unprotected cruiser of the Detroit type costs $500,000. An unarmored gunboat like the Concord is worth $500,000. A composite gunboat of the Newport class costs $230,000. A dynamite gunboat like the famous Vesuvius is worth $50,000. A torpedo boat of the Faragut pattern costs $25,000.

We have not lost any of our vessels in the war with Spain. The Maine, destroyed in Havana harbor before the war began, is the only item of this kind that will figure in the coming bill of Dewey stopped him short. "You are lying," he said, severely. "You were very drunk. I heard you myself. I will not have my men lie to me. I don't ask them not to drink, but I do expect them to tell the trunk of the cost of

The high cost of modern ordnance an ammunition will also help swell Spain's indemnity bill. A complete supply of am-munition to fill once all the vessels sent to sea against Spain costs about $1,750,000. One battleship's full supply of shot and shell costs about $400,000. Every time one of our monster 13-inch guns is fired the charge costs $1,500; a great many charge costs $1,500; a great many of these charges are already included in our little account against Spain. The smaller guns are fired at a cost running all the way from $200 up to $1,000 for each charge. The guns themselves are costly, too. Lisner Building G Street Let the same fair reader ask the writer why the clearing sale only begins here in August, while commencing much earlier at other establishments, and the reply will be: Because the stocks are kept complete here until August. March, April, May, June and July are the money-making months of our half-year. August is the money-losing month, when the contents of the "Bargain Tables" are annually looked forward to, always creating the talk of the town. Let us further explain to our fair reader and brother-merchants that we feel we can better afford a quick and decisive clearing sale in August, with prices way down, than the usual long drawn-out affair, with prices fust nibbled at. And so, commencing Monday, is the Paleis Royal's Twentieth Annual Clearing Sale, to which we cordially invite old friends and patrons, with the assurance that the best bargains of the next shall be cellinged by those to come.

hem, Pa., is $3,500,000-averaging $35,000 Mr. Dingley's estimate of $500,000,000 as the cost of our war operations against Spain for a year covers all these things.

The members of local organized in the second control of the second control and is probably a calculation well within the actual expenditure. Even though Spain sues for peace quickly it is not possible for our Government to avoid a large portion of this estimated outlay, as It is the one day of all the year which the troops have been called out and con-tracts of all kinds have been made for

The indemnity demanded of Spain, therefore, will probably be not less than the cost of nine months of war, based on Mr. Dingley's estimate-$375,000.000. But, then, there is the alternative of territory. Where the victorious nation has selected to take large areas of territory from the directly instrumental in having Congress conquered nation it has usually been counted as part of the indemnity. So that if the ownership of the Philippines, the Ladrones, Cuba and Porto Rico passes from Spain to Uncle Sam, or to the people of these Islands under the protection of the United States, that may be allowed to cut down the amount of the indemnity very considerably.

sters and peddlers are denied admittance to the camps. A board of surgeons will soon be appointed to investigate the causes of the fever.

After much deliberation it has been decided to send the Second Division to Sea Girt, N. J. This information has not yet been given out officially, but several of the colonels who have demanded a change have been so informed by Gen, Graham,

This has been chosen as the best way in which to get the troops into a healthy

The plans leaked out through the quartermaster's department of the Fourth Missouri, as the men their denounced the scheme and refused to co-operate.

The boys who intend to leave say that there will be no trouble and that there is nothing to be afraid of in the double guard or ball cartridges, as the sergeants will select men for the guard who are "all right," and who will swing in with the crowd at the proper time.
